

CANOE CAMP

Please read carefully through this camper information to help prepare for a week at Luther Heights in the Canoe Camp program. Please let us know if you have any questions.

Our Hope for You

While you're out in the wilderness, you will begin to know yourself better, reflecting on your abilities, your goals, and your calling. You will be part of a community where everyone matters. You will become involved more deeply in caring for Creation by developing a sense of life with minimum impact and seeing God's beauty up close.

We hope camp will help you grow in your faith. You don't have to be a Lutheran to be at Luther Heights, but the faith shapes our life together. We worship together at the beginning and end of every day. We take time each day to study the Bible together. We usually have daily Quiet Time, so each of us can have a brief chance to be alone with the Word before God. And there are all kinds of unscheduled times where we find our faith deepened. We want you and everyone else to enjoy the experience of living in community in the beautiful mountains of Idaho!

Is this Program Right for Me?

The only people who should not be in the Luther Heights Canoe Camp program are those who have physical disabilities that interfere with walking, who are unable to carry the extra weight of a pack, who are seriously overweight, or who are not interested in a more "primitive" camping experience away from modern conveniences.

Canoe Camp at Luther Heights may challenge you physically. Canoeing is hard work, but it's not an intense pace or a long distance, and this program will not push you past your limits.

At the start, you'll probably develop sore muscles and find it takes time to adapt to the higher altitudes. You can expect to do a fair amount of canoeing (up to 4-6 hours some days) and some backpacking with packs full of gear and supplies, generally about one-fourth to one-third of your body weight.

Arrival/What the Week Looks Like

At registration, you will have a brief health screening with our Health Care Manager to go over your health form and discuss any special needs you may have. You will need to turn in any medications you bring to camp. Following the accreditation standards of the American Camping Association, Luther Heights must have all medications (including non-prescription ones) under the control of your counselor.

On Sunday after registration, you and your program group will go over packing-out and orientation. You'll learn how to set up and take care of your tent. You'll be briefed on safety and low-impact camping procedures (water treatment, group hiking, camping in bear country, latrine procedures, health care, etc.) Your group will leave the next morning after completing your packing-out.

You will spend Monday through Thursday canoeing on Redfish Lake with your group. You will camp on the shores, cook out for each meal and enjoy activities in God's creation. You will return to Luther Heights on Thursday afternoon, participating in all-camp activities that evening.

How to Prepare

By praying. By planning to share yourself with others. By committing yourself not only to your own needs, but to the needs of others.

You should also prepare with any physical activity that increases your stamina. Brisk walking, jogging, bicycling, swimming, or other activities that increase your heart rate for a sustained period are best. If you haven't been active recently, start slowly and gradually increase the time you spend with these activities. Try to work up to doing them for at least thirty minutes a day, three or more times a week. Start several weeks or even months before camp starts.

Emergencies

Messages may be carried to trails groups within a day when necessary. Emergency evacuation can be done in the same time span, or by a helicopter when there is a life-threatening injury.

Insurance

Information is required on health forms for camper's personal coverage.

Accreditation

Luther Heights Bible Camp is an Accredited Site by the American Camping Association (ACA).

Water Safety

Two people will be in each canoe with their personal gear and community supplies. Luther Heights staff are trained in Wilderness First Aid and waterfront procedures. At least one of the counselors will be a Red Cross-certified lifeguard. The group will be canoeing Redfish Lake.

Canteen

Campers will have the opportunity to shop at Canteen for LHBC gear on the first and last day of camp. Money will be kept at camp and is not allowed on the lake/trails.

Packing

Luther Heights provides a backpack for each camper, tents, and gear needed for the group (food, cooking utensils, bear bag, rope, maps, stoves, emergency/first aid supplies, etc.) You need to provide your own personal gear (see list below).

Stick to the motto: "Pack light, be prepared." Remember you'll be carrying all your gear as well as food and equipment divided by the group, so packing light is essential. However, you need to be prepared for the wilderness, including a wide range of weather conditions. You will need to be prepared for both warm and cold temperatures, as well as rain and sunny days.

As you pack, think carefully: do you really need it? Will you be unprepared without it? Keep in mind the Three Virtues of trails gear: light weight (the pounds add up quickly), low bulk (there's only so much space in your pack), and multiple use (whenever you can use something for more than one purpose, you've saved yourself some weight on the back).

Foot Gear

Please bring a pair of strapped sandals (with a heel strap) or old tennis shoes for canoeing. Closed toe shoes, either hiking boots or tennis shoes, should be worn while on the trails. Flip flops are not allowed. You should also have several changes of socks with you. We recommend at least one pair of wool socks, which will still keep you warm if they are wet.

Sleeping Bag and Pad

You want a sleeping bag that is as warm as possible and as light as possible. While down bags are wonderful, they are very expensive. There are many bags on the market with special synthetic fibers designed for trails bags. Many now have temperature ratings that help you compare between various bags. Most "car camping" bags are generally too heavy to carry for the insulation you get.

A sleeping pad is also recommended. This can be either closed-cell (like Ensolite), or open-cell foam. There are some inexpensive ones available, as well as some more elaborate ones (like the self-inflating Thermarest). Again, light weight and insulating capacity are most important.

Clothing

Be prepared for extremes of weather. While we hope you have some warm sunny days, you might have to face a snowstorm or rain. The nights generally get quite cool in the high country, sometimes near freezing. It's best to have clothing you can put on in layers. Items insulate better that way and can be removed in stages as you warm up. We recommend several wool items since wool insulates even when it is wet. A stocking cap and gloves or mittens are wise additions to your gear.

A rain poncho or lightweight rain jacket is essential. The camp has a limited number available, but we don't have enough for everyone. Please pack your own rain gear.

It's good to pack most of your items in small plastic bags, to help protect against wetness. You might also want a large garbage bag to use as a pack cover at night or in the rain. Plastic bags will also be available for sale in Canteen.

Basic	Equipment:
	_ Tennis shoes
	_ Strapped sandals (or a second pair of tennis shoes)
	_ Sleeping bag and stuff sack
	_ Sleeping pad
	_ Rain poncho or light rain jacket/pants
	_ Reusable water bottle(s) and/or a water bladder (CamelBak, etc.)
Cloth	ing:
	_ Extra pairs of socks
	_ Underwear
	_ Shirts, Jackets, Sweater/Sweatshirt, Down Vest
	T-shirts are fine for warm weather but have something for cool nights and bad weather. We recommend a wool shirt. Consider combinations of layers: windbreaker/sweater/T-shirt, or rain jacket /sweatshirt, long sleeved underwear/T-shirt, or jacket/down/vest sweater, etc.
	_ Comfortable shorts
	_ Long pants
	Pants are necessary for cold weather and to protect against evening mosquitoes. Jeans are O.K., though don't provide much warmth when wet. We recommend wool, quick-drying, or rain pants with long underwear.
	_ Stocking cap, gloves or mittens
	_ Swimsuit and Towel
Other	Items:
	_ Mosquito repellent
	_ Sunscreen lotion. This is important! At higher elevations you are much more likely to get a serious sunburn.
	_ Small flashlight, extra batteries
	_ Toothbrush and toothpaste, biodegradable soap, comb, etc.
	_ Small towel and washcloth
	Kleeney handkerchief or handana

Also Consider:
	Camera (waterproof or in a waterproof bag, just in case)
	Foot Powder
	Lip protection (chapstick, etc.)
	_Sunglasses/sun visor
	Long underwear
	Pen or pencil (for journaling)

Fishing Gear

You may have the opportunity to fish. We recommend a compact fishing pole and lightweight supplies if you'd like to fish. You must have an Idaho Fishing License with you if you decide to fish.

Please do NOT bring:

Pets, iPods/music devices, firearms/ammunition, hair dryers, alcohol, tobacco or other drugs, personal vehicles not be used during sessions, personal sport equipment, firecrackers
